THANKS-GIVING SUNDAY

November 22nd is Thanks-Giving Sunday. It's a day when we can celebrate all God has given us. It's a day when we can affirm our plans to honor him with our giving to the ministries of his church in the coming year.

Plan to be present in worship to offer your Thanks-Giving offering estimates for 2010.

And plan to stick around for a fellowship dinner of Thanks-Giving for the whole church family.

See you on Thanks-Giving Sunday!

Why do Patty and I choose to give to Cuthbert United Methodist Church?

We believe that God is at work here. We have conversations with people who say they sense the presence of Christ in worship services. We hear about the personal fruit that comes from Bible study. People say they have made it through tough times because of the welcome and witness of people from this church.

We believe that we belong here. To be certain, the Bishop might have told me to come here. But 'coming' and 'belonging' are two different things. We know God has sent us—not just the Bishop—and that he is knitting our hearts to yours, so that this congregation can become a better expression of the family of God.

We believe that the lay leadership of this church wants to grow further toward embracing truth and living faithfully into the future. This will be a challenge, because God has done many good things in the past. But we believe, and we think you believe, that the future still holds blessings—though many of them will be different from the past.

We hope you believe some of this... and more.

I'll see you Sunday as we offer the Lord our Thanks-Giving offering estimates for 2010.

With joy,

Scott
